

“Navigating the new normal: How to thrive in residential construction” Lunch ‘N’ Learn – September 19

This Lunch ‘N’ Learn is brought to you by the NextGen Committee

We only have room for the first 30 individuals who register

Earlier this year, a group of industry leaders sat down to brainstorm solutions to the many challenges that the residential construction industry is facing. The discussions were lively and key themes around collaboration, innovation and the power of people emerged. Join Grant Thornton’s Jenny Pon as she shares insights, strategies and stories from the conversations on what industry leaders had to say about what it takes to thrive in the new normal. During this interactive lunch and learn, you’ll also have the chance to have your say and share your perspective on the future of the residential construction industry.

Jenny Pon is a Principal with Grant Thornton LLP in Edmonton. She brings over 25 years of experience working with privately held businesses in the residential construction, real estate, property development and management and hospitality sectors.
